History

Since 1969, Turner has been providing:

- ✓ Construction industry training for minority and women business owners in the disciplines practiced in the construction industry.
- ✓ Turner is deeply committed to programs that support and expand the social, economic, and educational growth of the community.
- ✓ Uniquely designed, our program enhances the technical, business, and administration skills for participating companies to be profitable and build a reputation for efficiently managing construction projects.
- ✓ Individuals enrolled in the program gain insights and meaningful tools that help them target their business for quality and growth while, at the same time, develop new strategic business relationships.

Benefits to the participants include:

- ✓ Instruction by Industry Experts – Turner's key staff members instruct all of the classes except Banking and Construction Law, which is taught by top professionals in the industry;
- ✓ A "Certificate of Achievement" for successfully completing the program, presented at the Graduation Ceremony;
- ✓ A "Student Biography." A compilation of profiles for each student used as a networking tool among the participants and sent to public agencies and community-based organizations;
- ✓ Seven weeks of networking opportunities with other program participants and key Turner staff;
- ✓ Recognition and credibility with other industry leaders for having completed the program.
